FOR ALL ANSWERS INTERVIEWER READ OUT Data is collected from around 5,100 homes who agree to be part of the National TV Viewing Panel. These homes are specially selected so that people from all areas and backgrounds are represented. Programmes watched by these homes determine the official UK TV viewing ratings. FOR RECRUITS WITH NO WORKING TV [H8=0] OR FOR ALL SETS [S3= STORED AWAY] OR [S2 = WORKING BUT NEVER USED OR PERMANENTLY OUT OF ORDER] AND DON'T WATCH TV VIA COMPUTER/TABLET [H72=2]. It's important that the panel represents people who don't have a TV set and even don't watch TV content on their tablets/computers/smartphones The study is commissioned by BARB who have been delivering the UK's official viewing figures since 1981

READ OUT: We'd like to ask your home to join the BARB National TV Viewing Panel. Usually, I would have played a video to explain about the panel but as I cannot at the moment, here is a summary of the most important points.

- To find out more about their audiences, TV companies ask people like you to take part in their official TV panel.
- To determine who takes part, we randomly select homes in the UK to ensure the panel is truly representative of everyone in the country.
- We want to speak to people from all walks of life, from all ages and backgrounds, including those who watch little or no TV, and even those who don't have a TV set at all.
- We'd like you to take part to reflect the viewing habits of people just like you.
- Moving on to how the panel works. The viewing on ALL TV sets, tablets, computers and smart phones would be measured for everyone in your home.
- To do this, a simple device is attached to each TV set. This identifies who is watching and what is being watched.
- [REC PROP 1,3] To collect viewing on tablets, computers and smart phones there is a separate device that is connected directly to your broadband router. Importantly, this ONLY collects information about the programmes being shown from a limited number of entertainment services (such as the BBC iPlayer, ITV Hub, YouTube and Netflix for example).
- [REC PROP 2] Viewing on tablets, computers and smart phones is also collected using apps that have been designed to collect the same information. Importantly, these ONLY collect information about the programmes being shown from a limited number of entertainment services (such as the BBC iPlayer, ITV Hub, YouTube and Netflix for example).
- The task is simple. Once on the panel, you will receive regular rewards as a thank you for taking part.
- You can find more information about the BARB viewing panel by visiting our website www.shapingtv.co.uk The video I would have played you is also available to view there.
- Some of the broadcasters involved include
